

Google Europe Anita Borg Memorial Scholarship

Dr. Anita Borg (1949 – 2003) devoted her adult life to revolutionising the way we think about technology and dismantling barriers that keep women and minorities from entering computing and technology fields. She fought tirelessly for the development of technology with positive social and human impact, and her combination of technical expertise and fearless vision continues to inspire and motivate countless women to become active participants and leaders in creating technology.

As part of Google's ongoing commitment to furthering Anita's vision, we are pleased to announce the Google Europe Anita Borg Memorial Scholarship 2007, through which we hope to encourage women to excel in computing and technology and become active role models and leaders. We will award scholarships based on the strength of candidates' academic background and engagement within the community related to science and/or technology. A group of female BSc, MSc, and PhD student finalists will be chosen from the applicant pool. The scholarship recipients, selected from the finalists, will each receive a €5,000 (or equivalent) scholarship for the 2007/2008 academic year.

Eligibility Requirements
